

Errol Douglas

Whether on stage, behind the scenes, at a shoot, educating or acting as an ambassador, Errol Douglas MBE translates his passion and dedication, showcasing the best of British hairdressing. He has been described as the King of hair. He is also a champion of young industry talent, creating a more significant profile for them in UK hairdressing.

My earliest recollection of the Fellowship was when I entered the F.A.M.E. Team competition. Learning that I had made the grade to finalist status made me determined to become a member of the team as it was doing such great things. The F.A.M.E. team was really a forerunner of all the youth teams and opportunities that are available today. It was an incredible experience and to actually be part of the team was something that I will cherish forever.

We are all made differently but for me, once I had got over the initial nerves – just knew that being on stage was my happy place – when everything I'd ever wanted literally came together. I had an inner peace that I'd never experienced before. To date I still love being on stage – it's where I am complete.
